When a Child Dies

Summary

1. Each death of a child is a tragedy for the family. Subsequent enquiries/investigations should therefore maintain an appropriate balance between forensic and medical requirements, respecting the family's need for grieving and support and sometimes in managing any uncertainty about the cause of death.
2. The majority of child deaths are from natural causes. A minority of unexpected deaths are the consequence of abuse or neglect, or are otherwise found to have abuse or neglect as an associated factor. Therefore in all cases enquiries should seek to understand:
 - the reasons for the child's death
 - the possible needs of other children in the household
 - needs of other family members
 - whether any lessons are to be learned for future reference
3. Families should be treated with sensitivity, discretion and respect at all times, and professionals should approach their enquiries with an open mind.

Safeguarding Children Board Responsibilities

4. Local Safeguarding Children Boards have responsibilities set out in statutory regulations when a child dies.
 5. From April 2008, collecting and analysing information about all child deaths with a view to identifying:
 - any case giving rise to the need for a serious case review (Part 8)
 - any matters of concern affecting the safety and welfare of children within the authority
 - any wider public health or safety concerns arising from a particular death or from trends in child deaths locally
- (See Part 10 B - Notification and Part 10 E - Child Death Overview Panel Procedures)
6. Putting in place procedures for ensuring there is a coordinated response by the authority, by Board partners and other relevant individuals to an unexpected death.
 7. Training
SSCB will provide training locally in relation to the management of child deaths as described below.

- When a child dies - A 1-2 hour awareness raising programme which introduces participants to the Rapid Response Procedures for Unexpected Child Deaths and the Child Death Review Processes.
- Responding to an Unexpected Child Death - a 1 day training programme which provides participants with the basic skills to carry out an inter-agency investigation into an unexpected childhood death.
- Reviewing Childhood Deaths - a ½ day training programme which provides participants with the knowledge and skills needed to run an effective Child Death Overview Panel.

Definition of an Unexpected Death of a Child

8. An unexpected death applies to the death of a child which was not anticipated as a significant possibility 24 hours before the death or, where there was a similarly unexpected collapse leading to or precipitating the events which led to the death.
9. The designated doctor responsible for unexpected deaths in childhood should be consulted where professionals are uncertain about whether a death is unexpected.

Designated Doctor for Unexpected Deaths in Childhood (DDUD)

10. Each PCT has access to a consultant paediatrician who has a designated role to provide advice on:
 - the commissioning of paediatric services from paediatricians with expertise in undertaking enquiries into unexpected deaths in childhood and the medical investigative services such as radiology, laboratory and histopathology services;
 - and
 - the organisation of such services.
